

Title: G0ne

For this painting, I wanted to express how I see social media affect us, and how people try their best to be something they are not. I was inspired by Douglas Copland and Helene Delmar. But mainly by the music video call Instagram by Dean.

Title: Mask of Beauty

For this project, I wanted to express on loving yourself as I sometimes find it hard to love myself and show how all people have beauty in them no matter what. My Inspirations are Rene Magritte and Frida Kahlo

Title: Holy Grace

The Holy Grace is about me wanting to express religion as it is part of who I am. When talking about religion I am not someone who is obsessed with it, I am someone who believes in Catholicism and respects it. When I was little I loved watching a show called la rosa de Guadalupe that was about the virgin Mary, My Inspiration for this piece was Franz Ittenbach and Nicholas Roerich

Title: July 2009

For this illustration, I want to express the Day of the Dead as it's a holiday celebrated in Mexico. I want to make illustrations on about it since my family was not able to celebrate, but had a family decorated my grandma grave for us. I was inspired by Jose and Frida.

Title: Reina

This project is to express my dark times and what I feel how I felt while growing up. I was lost and sad but still tried to be happy during these times. I wanted this piece to be creepy and weird. My inspiration was Junji Ito, Miles Johnston. and Malena Bozzini.

Title: The Truth

The feeling of scared and happiness. Lying to yourself and hiding the pain away. This piece is supposed to represent these things or the meaning of this piece. The butterfly representing fighting for freedom or freedom. The flower representing hiding yourself from the pain. The hands are supposed to represent not being afraid or not scared and taking the flower away to show the truth behind it all and not the fake that was hiding.

Title: Maya

When painting this piece, I wanted to express my culture and family. The girl in the painting is my little cousin who dances traditional Mexican dance. I was inspired by her interest in our culture, as she likes to talk and learn more about our ancestors. My inspiration for this painting was Frida Kahlo.

Title: Who am I

Who am I is a piece that was inspired by the mysteries of the horizon by Rene Magritte, also by a scene in a music video called Singularity by BTS. This piece is supposed to represent the true face under all those masks but as well as if you are lost in those faces.

Title: Don't please

Don't Please is a piece that was inspired by The Pilgrim By Rene Magritte, This Piece is supposed to represent the meaning of betrayal or having someone close to you leave. That is why it says don't please as of don't leave, please.

Title: Healed hope

This piece is supposed to represent my past life and my life now and the problem I face when I was little and how the outcome was when that problem was solved. The person in the painting is supposed to be someone from my family members since I was a little uncomfortable withdraw myself at that amount. My inspiration was Frida Kahlo "The Two Frida" and Picasso "Portrait of Suzanne Bloch" these inspiration help me create the final piece.

Title: Broken hope

The person in the painting is supposed to be someone from my family members since I was a little uncomfortable withdraw myself at that amount. My inspiration was Frida Kahlo "The Two Frida" and Picasso "Portrait of Suzanne Bloch" these inspiration help me create the final piece.

Title: What is?

What is the idea/ stander of beauty? what is true love? This piece is supposed to represent the meaning of what is the stander to be called pretty or to be loved. Hiden with pain under that fake make. The poem is about love and beauty to show the pain of confusion. My inspiration was Florian Nicolle and Schak Van Der Meter their artwork inspired my artwork and trying something new.
